

SCREENGRABS

BBC1
FILM 2008 WITH
JONATHAN ROSS
11.35PM

In the first of a new series, Ross reviews action comedy Tropic Thunder (below) which stars Ben Stiller, Jack Black, Robert Downey Jnr and Steve Coogan. Colin Firth discusses his role alongside Helen Hunt in romcom Then She Found Me, and there's a look at the status of female directors in Hollywood.

BBC2
LATER LIVE... WITH
JOOLS HOLLAND
10PM

As Later... returns for its autumn run, Metallica make a rare television appearance, with tracks from their new LP Death Magnetic; Kings of Leon play some of their latest compositions; France's first lady Carla Bruni performs a chanson or two; plus there are tunes from American singer Nicole Atkins and East End artist VV Brown, who describes her sound as 'doo-wop indie whilst travelling on a rocket to outer space'.

ITV1
EMMERDALE
7PM

Donald (Michael 'Quiller'

Jayston) collapses after a row with the volatile Anna (Emma Davies). Rodney is disheartened to see Nicola continuing with the frankly silly book scam and Carl regrets betraying Donald.

CHANNEL 4
THE SEX EDUCATION
SHOW
8PM

By subjecting herself to a full sexual MOT, presenter Anna Richardson (above) finds out whether her relationship history has left her with any sexually transmitted infections. She also goes back to school to show young teenagers the physical and sometimes invisible symptoms of the most common STIs, and a football team discover whether testing is as painful for men as rumoured. Straight-talking good advice.

FIVE
MARY MAGDALENE:
SAINT OR SINNER?
8PM

Despite being written out of the Bible story - depicted variously as an 'hysterical woman' or a prostitute - it is impossible to deny Mary Magdalene's central role as the first person to witness the Resurrection. This programme asks: was she sidelined deliberately by the Christian Church to protect its male hierarchy? MB
